

OERcamp global

Unconference on Open Education | February 23–24, 2027 | 24-hour
Online Barcamp | Free & open to everyone | All languages welcome!

+++ Connect, share, and learn about OER and Open Education! +++

OER is all about sharing—so why stop at geographical borders?

Join our 24-hour unconference (aka. BarCamp) with practitioners, activists, scientists, nOERds, and novices from around the globe.

Let's celebrate OER, share our knowledge and resources, and connect as a global community to discuss our projects, aims, hopes—and even our doubts and challenges.

What is OERcamp.global?

OERcamp.global is a BarCamp on Open Education and Open Educational Resources (OER) and practices (OEP). Everyone can contribute by submitting sessions—making it a user-generated unconference. Sessions go beyond sharing knowledge: they address open issues, ongoing activities, and joint reflection.

The event communication will be in English, but sessions in other languages are highly welcome!

How does it work?

The opening session starts on February 23 at 1pm UTC, launching 24 hours of sessions and plenary hours. Participate at any time—day or night—wherever you are in the world!

What can you do?

Participate: Join OERcamp.global on February 23–24. Register now:
